Glades Cattle Assn. Gets Nat'l Notice

Market 'Pilot Plant' For USDA Guide

BY JANE RIEKER

The Glades Livestock Market Association has been selected by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as the "pilot plant" example of livestock marketing to be publicized throughout the U. S. and in foreign countries in a USDA circular.

C. G. Randall, director of USDA's livestock and wool branch of the Farmer Cooperative Service, Washington, D. C., is spending two weeks here studying the market and its services to members.

His report, covering the organizational setup, operations, services, and program of the association, with recommendations and suggestions for the future will be written as an illustrated booklet to serve as a guide for organizations going into livestock marketing fields, Randall said.

The report will be released nationally and internationally. The local association was selected as the "pilot plant" for being the only market of its type in the South, the USDA man said.

Steady Progress

Randall, who visited the Glades last year and probably will return next summer when his report is prepared, said he believes steady progress is being made in the Glades in pasture improvement.

Better grasses and fertilization are more extensive and there is much evidence of better pasture management practices in the Glades, Randall believes. He has been touring pastures and studying feeding operations daily since his arrival.

Randall says he has been impressed by the serious thought and study being given supplemental feeding by Glades cattlemen. "There seems to be a constant search for new ideas for increasing the average daily gain," he said.

Juveniles In Theft Series

BELLE GLADE — Juveniles in both Belle Glade and Pahokee were apprehended this week after a double series of robberies and breaking and enterings in each community, according to Belle Glade Chief of Police Charles Goodlett.

On Monday morning several juveniles in Belle Glade reported their premises broken into. Upon investigation by police officers, finger prints were taken and a premise promising to children as possible robbery suspects.

Last night a report was received from Bill Graber that one of his trucks was missing. The Florida State Highway Patrol advised that a truck reported to Goodlett that a truck in which three youths were riding had been wrecked on the south side of Taylor's Creek.

When the chief of police and Patrolman Louis Lowrey questioned the boys they recognized two of them as being residents (Continued on Page 8)

The Association maintains active accounts for more than 70,000 breeders of registered Herfords over the nation.

LEGISLATIVE BILLS SET

PAHOKEE — Legislative action to simplify city legal procedures will be sought as result of action by councilmen in regular session Monday.

Upon advice of City Attorney R. O. Johnson, council decided to lay before the legislative council on Mar. 4 two bills for passage in April session of the state legislature. The first would expedite public works construction. The second would be the nature of a permissive bill allowing Pahokee to enter into agreement with other communities to share the Port Mayaca Cemetery Commission—for mutual purposes and to remove any shadow of legal doubt that might in future cloud such action.

Water Works Expansion Councilman Robert Simonson was instructed by the council to investigate the possibility of the Water Works buying the lots adjacent to it and across from City Hall. F. S. Parrish, president of Council, declared that the purchase of the lots would (Continued on Page 8)

Three Glades C-Cs Sponsor Big Event

Representatives of the three Glades Chambers of Commerce—Belle Glade, Pahokee, and Clewiston—are cooperating to plan the "VIP" luncheon to be held prior to the dedication of Pump Station SSA at 20-Mile Bend Mar. 19.

The seven living former Governors of Florida, the Florida Congressional delegation, Florida legislative, and high-ranking Corps of Engineers and FCD officials will be invited guests. The luncheon will be held at noon under a tent on the first fairway at Belle Glade Country Club. A Glades-grown meal will be served.

At the first meeting of the tri-city group, committee assignments for the luncheon were made, and this evening at the Belle Glade C-C office, members will gather to set up a budget for the event. George Wedgworth, Belle Glade C-C president, is general chairman of the luncheon planners.

Other members are W. H. Lanier and L. G. Kelly, Clewiston; Curtis Chase and Mrs. Jane Rieker, Pahokee; Doug Woolen, Mrs. Mary Fox, Bill Rhodes, and (Continued on Page 4)

Directors decided to assist the Everglades Fair committee by donating funds appropriated by the chamber for its display at the fair. Chamber President George Wedgworth reported on a committee meeting held Tuesday formulating plans for the luncheon to be held prior to dedication ceremonies of Pump Station 5 at Twenty Mile Bend.

Plans were made for the Harvest Queen and her court to attend Belle Glade night at the Palm Beach Kennel Club April 1. Directors heard that special dispensation is given for admission of the queen and her attendants in spite of the fact that they are minors and ordinarily persons under 21 are not allowed on the club grounds.

A crested walnut directors' table 10 feet long has been provided, it was learned, for the use of the directors and to furnish the chamber office.

FIRE AT NEGRO CAMP SUNDAY

PAHOKEE — Fire resulting from a kerosene stove damaged a 2-family house at Everglades Farm Labor Center on Sunday according to James Vann, executive director, Pahokee Housing Authority.

One family has already re-occupied one half of the dwelling and the other family will be able to move back on Saturday, Vann reported.

Stein Wins More Cattle Honors

CHOSEN — The efforts of Fritz Stein in the cattle feeding field have once again brought honor and recognition to the Glades. The Stein Cattle Co. carlot entries of fat steers at the South-eastern Fat Stock Show in Ocala this week took a reserve champion, a blue ribbon and a red second, according to show officials. The reserve champion places the entry as second best in the show, all classifications and all breeds.

Stein's reserve champion entry was a carlot of Shorthorn steers which he purchased last October from Iowa and dry lot fed on snap corn up to show time. This entry took second in the breed classification. They were classified as "heavies", averaging in weight about 1103 pounds, according to Stein.

Stein's blue ribbon entry was a carlot of Hereford steers which he also purchased in October from Florida stock coming from Brooksville. The group was classified as middleweights, averaging in weight about 853 pounds, Stein said.

The 1955 fat stock show at Ocala is the oldest exclusively cattle event in the state, having been established in 1941. Running from Feb. 28 through Mar. 6, the show offers more than $2415 in premiums this year.

Being practically never a dog of mixed reactions, I've been a little confused recently.

This is because I am having mixed reactions.

Ever since my first venture into polo a couple of weeks ago.

Naturally, when I heard the bosses talking about "a game of chukkers," I thought they'd gone off their heads, and that we were going to have to sit through a checker tournament—for some strange reason.

I was soon to discover otherwise.

As you know, I'm not very sports-minded myself. I leave all the wallowing around in football mud, jumping about in basketball dust, and beating little balls with clubs to people. Me for the simple things—digging up a hedge, scratching a comfortable hole under the bushes.

Lisa and I were allowed to go to this polo match because, as we understand it, practically nobody without a dog can get in.

Only horses are more important at polo matches than dogs, and after that come people.

Lisa and I strode proudly into the polo club, and fell into a gutter. The gutter just inside the door of the club, and used to be the place where cow stanchions were located. I forgot to mention this clubhouse once was a dairy barn, just to

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 3 Not All Your Income Goes In Your Tax Form

(This is one of a series of articles on income tax changes. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Institute of Certified Public Accountants.)

Taxpayers make more mistakes in listing their income than any other type of error, according to a survey made by the Internal Revenue Service. It is important to know what to include and what NOT to include. Look at this list and see if you can tell which should be listed as income on your federal income tax return:

- Dividends from an insurance policy.
- Pay of armed forces enlisted men while in combat or while hospitalized from combat service.
- Social Security benefits.
- Payments received under Workmen's Compensation laws.
- The answer is that none of the above should be listed as taxable income! There are other forms of exempt income, too, which you will find listed in the official tax instructions. Some of them are:

Other Exempt Income

- Inheritances and bequests (the estate may be taxed but not the recipient).
- First $200 of monthly pay of armed forces officers while serving or hospitalized from active service in a combat zone.
- Railroad Retirement Act benefits.
- Certain health and accident benefits.
- Damages awarded by a court or paid out of court for personal injuries.
- Government payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except disability retirement pay and interest on terminal leave bonds.

 Interest on state and municipal bonds.

Persons and Prices

The rental value of a parsonage furnished to a minister of the gospel is not taxable income; the law now adds that a rental allowance paid to him for this purpose is also exempt.

If you won a prize, watch this fine distinction: The prize is taxable if you were required to exert any of the slightest effort to earn it; on the other hand, if it was made in recognition of scientific, literary or other achievement and you were selected without any action on your part the prize is considered a gift and you are not taxed on it.

Most scholarships and fellowships are exempt, unless they are paid as compensation for services, such as teaching and research.

Additional Information

Be sure to read the official instructions. You can also get help from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult only qualified advisers.

ORDER IN THE HOUSE

Most surprised person on the floor of the House one day last week was Congressman Dante Fascell when Speaker Sam Rayburn called him to the rostrum to preside over a vote count. This is generally considered a recognition of above-the-average legislative work. It usually comes to "freshmen" congressmen, only during the final days of the session.

CHAIN REACTION — Watch this new political "public opinion poll" scheme being set up by Florida's lone Republican, Bill Cramer. It could have long range possibilities. It was started last week and works like this: Cramer calls his office in St. Petersburg and gives them a question to ask the people. In this case it was about the tax cut bill. His St. Petersburg office then calls Cramer's four district political leaders who in turn call a long list of workers who start calling phone numbers out of the book and asking the key question to the person answering. Each phone pollster has a quota of 10 to 20 numbers. The rule is to do it at once. This idea was tried out last week.

Florida — Washington SOCIETY NOTE — We get into deep water when we write about society and romance. But this story was too colorful and exciting to overlook. Last Friday night was the big dance for Florida folks in Washington. It marked the crowning of the new Cherry Blossom Princess for the annual Spring Festival. Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, was on hand as guest of honor to transfer the crown from last year's beautiful princess, Miss Carol Weatherly of Jacksonville, to the lovely blonde head of Miss Joan Carl, of Miami.

All of Florida's Congressmen and several hundred Floridians were there at the National Press Club ball room. "Mr. Sam" Rayburn kissed the princess—the grand march started—then everybody danced. Some said it was the best party that the Florida State Society had staged in many years. Much credit to Dick Stringfellow, president, and Inez Silkes, Bob's wife, who handled ticket reservations. The romance? Maybe! All eyes were on out-going Princess Carol and her escort, newly elected Congressman Paul Rogers—who heads the list of eligible bachelors in Washington.

HERRING PROMOTED TO MASTER SERGEANT

GAINESVILLE — Announcement was made this week of the promotion of Gene Herring to master sergeant in the U. of F. ROTC by Colonel Harry M. Grizzard.

Herring was one of 51 members of the junior class to be promoted, the colonel said.

ROBSEVATIONS

By BENJAMIN S. ROBERTS

"FLORIDA, THE MOON, AND YOU"

"Florida, The Moon, and You" was a popular song title in 1925.

In 1955 the Air Force Proving Grounds, Cocoa, Florida, is mentioned as the take off site for a space rocket which would carry pre-fabricated components of a space satellite to be erected 1,075 from the earth's surface. By 1955 the earth-satellite established could be the launching site for a rocket propelled to the moon.

Science knows no rocket fuel which is practically or economically capable of propelling a plane as far into space as is necessary in establishing a satellite. Therefore, scientists feel that three charges or bursts will be required to free a rocket of earth-binding influences. The first two of these propelling devices can be salvaged if the launching site from which the original take-off is made is near water. Thus Florida's Cocoa site seems a natural place to take off into space and eventually to the moon.

Estimates now calculated indicate that rocket number one will be cut off and fall into the sea 150 miles from the launching site. Rocket number two will do its work and be released 705 miles from the launching site and will fall into the sea 906 miles from where it started its journey. The third rocket, the plane, will continue on into space and establish the primary outpost for construction of the contemplated satellite.

"Across the Space Frontier," Dr. Werner von Braun and five other scientists outline the necessity for the United States to establish a satellite in space from which the earth can be surveyed and from which astronomical observations can be conducted without atmospheric interruptions.

Practical as it sounds, these scientists have calculated the possibilities of such a venture down to the exact dimensions of the satellite they envision in space. Two hundred and fifty feet in diameter and safe against conceivable hazards, the satellite would be constructed in outer space from pre-fabricated units carried by the construction "site" by three-stage rocket planes which they describe in detail.

The limitations of man and his dependence upon environmental factors which would have to be duplicated while he is enroute to space and maintained while he is there retard the realization of the space project. Defense Department studies are cited as proof that the problem of man in an alien environment has already been given initial study by government departments.

The authors of the space frontier book feel that a 10-day round trip from the satellite to the moon is quite feasible with propellants now known to science.

So you think putting an oven in the wall is new? Like this Mian, you may have just discovered the new built-in electric range with the eye-level oven and thought it something entirely new. Not so, says Thor Corporation, its manufacturer. The old cooking appliance was built-in, too, but what difference?

In all the difference makes the difference. Where the pioneer woman had to break her back stooping to use the fireplace, the modern homemaker has her built-in oven at eye-level—no stooping, no bending. The days of the kitchen which was "hot as the handle of an oven," because of the open fireplace, are gone. This built-in is insulated to keep the heat inside the oven, to keep the kitchen cool. And color! No more drab kitchens. The modern homemaker may now select from a variety of oven colors to complement her kitchen decorating scheme.

LOOKING INTO THE FACTS...

Crucial! Calving Season

"Despite the browned condition of pastures and ranges, many cattle are in good condition now—the result of feeding silage and protein supplements and use of temporary pastures," said Dr. T. J. Cunha of the University Agricultural Experiment Station in a recent address. He added, "There are many other cows, however, that need more feeds and attention right now if they are to drop good calves and raise them well."

Now, CONSUMERS FEED brings you these facts from the experts as a service to the ever-growing cattle industry of the GLADES.

More Fertilizer Means Bigger Farm Profits on Less Acreage

Farmers today are in a squeeze. Prices paid by farmers still are low by more efficient production and there is no better way to do this than by proper use of fertilizer, according to the Agricultural Service Department of the Union Bag & Paper Corporation, maker of multiwall paper bags. Fertilizer, used at recommended rates, along with good seed, cultivating on time, a well-planned pest-control program, irrigation, prompt harvesting and other efficient farming practices will go a long way toward improving the situation.

Actual tests in a midwestern state show that farmers could make $20 million more profit from 120 million bushels of corn—with recommended fertilizer practices—than on 140 million bushels with inadequate fertilizer. In the Southern state, it was found that farmers could make as much profit from 900,000 bales of cotton as from twice that number using good practices and plenty of fertilizer. Fertilizer helps produce a much bigger yield per acre. And this increase in production enables farmers to use less acreage—thereby cutting production costs. Fertilizer is a big bargain today. Prices, in terms of plant food content, have advanced only 13% since 1935, while all items bought by farmers have advanced an average of 125% in the same period. Back in 1935 plant food content of a ton of fertilizer averaged 18.6%; today it averages 25%.

Proper fertilizer is the only logical answer to the surplus problem now facing us. It is a simple way of cutting total farm production without cutting the farmers' net profit.

Electric Refrigerators Prove Their Efficiency in New Comparative Tests

By JANE BAIRD
Mechanical refrigeration is common to nearly all farm homes today. And, many hundreds of thousands with electric service use their electricity to operate refrigerators. Others may use bottled gas.

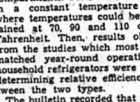

The problem of which is the more efficient—electric or bottled gas refrigerators—has involved us in some friendly discussions with a few of our rural neighbors. But now we have a bulletin published by the Housing and Equipment Section, Home Economics Research Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. For, like most of us living in the country, the Department of Agriculture is the "last word" when it comes to the use of household appliances.

constant temperature room where temperatures could be maintained at 70, 90 and 110 degrees Fahrenheit. Tests, results obtained from the studies which most nearly matched year-round operations of household refrigerators were used in determining relative efficiencies between the two types.

The bulletin recorded that electric refrigerators used an average of 2.744 heat units (Btu) per day, whereas bottled gas refrigerators used an average of 4.356 Btu per day. In other words, electric refrigerators are more efficient than bottled gas refrigerators by a ratio of 11.8 to 1.

Spicy Mexican Roll-Ups

A combination of ground pork, tomatoes, and onions, seasoned just the way you like it, turns buttermilk pancakes into a tasty main dish.

Pancakes, griddlecakes, or flapjacks—call them what you like—are favorite breakfast fare. Served with a meat accompaniment, they're also a hearty, budget-wise main dish for luncheon or supper. Try these meat-filled pancakes once, and you'll be asked to serve them often to family and guests alike.

To make Mexican Roll-Ups, prepare 14-16 Deluxe Pancakes according to the recipe on a package of Pillsbury's Buttermilk Pancakes. Mix Add 2 extra tablespoons milk to make a batter slightly thinner than usual. Bake on hot griddle, using about 3/4 cup batter for each 6-inch pancake. (For ease in turning, bake one at a time.)

Sprinkle each pancake with 1/4 cup meat sauce prepared as directed below. Roll up like jelly roll, and place in well-greased 13 x 9-inch pan. Cover with remaining meat sauce; sprinkle with 1 cup shredded cheese. Bake at 400° F. 10 to 15 minutes or until cheese is melted. Makes 14-16 roll-ups.

Add 1 No. 2 can (2 1/2 cups) tomatoes, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons chili powder, 1 clove garlic, sliced, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, and the browned pork. Simmer for about 10 minutes.

U.S. DISASTER MAP

You help others — you help yourself — when you join your Red Cross

There are 317 crosses on this map. Each marks a Red Cross Chapter where disaster struck suddenly in 1953-1954 and where the Red Cross working with local organizations gave relief to disaster victims.

What will the Disaster Map for 1955 look like? Will there be fewer crosses? Or more? No one knows. But one thing is certain: Year in and year out, on the average, your Red Cross working with other local agencies gives relief in 6 disaster calls a week somewhere in the U.S.A.

When It Happens No One Is Alone...
You will be there—because your Red Cross will be there!

That is the Red Cross way when disaster strikes; when blood or first aid save a life; when a serviceman or his family needs a helping hand.

If you believe that no one should be alone in time of trouble—that no one should be alone in giving help—you will join your Red Cross and support it generously.

HAY FEVER

Hay fever may occur in the spring summer or fall. Its symptoms are sneezing, stuffed up nasal passages and a runny nose. The ears may become congested and the congestion may lead to infection. Eyes may be itchy, swollen and watery.

The condition is caused by an allergy. Something has been inhaled. It may have been dust, smoke or pollen from either trees, grasses or weeds.

When the offending substance is inhaled, the individual's tissues produce substances which make the patient sensitive to future contact with these irritants. Sensitivity does not develop on first exposure to the pollen but only after the person has been exposed repeatedly. It usually takes several days of exposure to develop. When the sensitizing pollen has been finally produced, further contact with the pollen creates irritation of the nose, the eyes and the bronchial tubes. The severity of hay fever depends on the amount of pollen in the air and the degree of sensitivity of the person. On a cool, cloudy, windless or rainy day, the average sufferer may have practically no symptoms and may conclude that his condition has abated. Then the weather may change to hot, dry, sunny and windy, causing irritable clouds of pollen and malarial will return in full force.

Hay fever victims should see their family physician or an allergy specialist. He will study the various causes and make thorough physical examinations. Laboratory examinations may be fluid extracts of various pollens, he may make skin tests by scratch or injection. If there is an allergy to a particular pollen, redness and swelling will develop at the site of the scratch or injection within a few minutes. After determining the offending pollen, the physician may begin a series of injections with the effect of building immunity to the pollen.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, Belle Glade CHRISTIAN SCIENCE GROUP, Canal Point

Man's God-given dominion over fear, disease, and discord will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Scriptural selections in the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Man" will include the following from Psalms (3:4-6): "What is man, that thou art mindful of him? and the son of man, that thou visitest him? Thou madest him to have dominion over the works of thy hands; thou hast put all things under his feet."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following passage will be among those read (228:11-15): "The enslavement of man is not legitimate. It is his heritage of freedom, his God-given dominion over the material senses. Mortals will some day assert their freedom in the name of Almighty God."

"THE BIG QUESTION"

(ED. NOTE: Mrs. Ruby Kemp, RA Counselor and intermediate hostess of the Pahokee First Baptist Church, has requested publication of the following, which she wrote.)

"The question that seems to be in the minds and mouths of every one this day and time is 'juvenile delinquency,' and what will let's do something about it by doing first things first."

"For instance, the Lake area is full of churches—churches that's not full. We as 'parents' must make the first move. How? Take our children to church not send them—go back to preparing for Sunday on Saturdays. No matter what church you belong to, it is God's house and let's get in them the whole family and most of all be reverent in God's house, teach our children to be reverent."

"Next step: Will the theatre owners of the Glades area, all around the Lake give us from 8:30 until 8:45 on Sunday evenings to take our boys and girls to our churches for all shows closing at 5:30 and begin again at 9 o'clock and I am sure God will bless and multiply your blessings. We go to the shows all the week and these two on Sundays and omitting the other show would prove a blessing to God would bless you much. Help us to teach and lead our boys and girls of all races and color back to God and home and church. Let's solve our problems together. Bear one another's burdens. Let's love our neighbors, teach our children to love all people of all races and color in the church of their choice and work, sing, study, and pray. To learn to do a good deed every day for someone."

"I have practiced this for years and now I am one good deed a day but many and God multiplies my blessings and gives to me more and more to have to share with others. He will do the same for you."

"Thank you, God best good to you? Oh yes, He has come with us, theatre owners, cooperate with us. Help the ones who are working so faithfully to lead the youth. Youth in all churches. All the churches need your cooperation. Will you? Give this much thought. Every Christian is praying for the youth. There's a beginning, where? At our homes. Some one is knocking. Let Him in? Try to understand. It can be done. Let's save lives from wrecks, murder, broken hearts and homes. Destruction. Oh! Yes, many lives can be saved for Christ. Please cooperate."

"Written by one who loves boys and girls."

2-County Wreck Involves Trucks In "Sandwich" Crashes on SR 27

An accident involving three tractor-trailers, south of the Palm Beach-Broward County line early Friday morning was the cause of a three-truck collision at the end of the jammed up traffic line behind it in Palm Beach County.

Five of 19 passengers injured in the three truck "sandwich" crash on SR 25 just north of the Palm Beach County line remained in Belle Glade Memorial Hospital at OBSERVER press time. Artie Lee Tatum, Belle Glade, was parked in a '52 Chevrolet, loaded with 18 workers going to the fields, 35 miles south of South Bay, behind a '53 International tractor-trailer combination. These two vehicles were in the middle of the long traffic pile up behind the accident in Broward County. Vernon Farmer, driving a Lykes Bros GMC tractor-trailer, lay down 51 feet of skid marks before hitting Tatum's truck from the rear, driving it forward 150 feet, and under the back of the long International driven by Allen Pritchett, for W. B. Roddenberry, Cairo, Ga. Farmer then continued to skid for 72 feet before stopping.

18 Laborers Injured
Meanwhile the 18 laborers in the Tatum truck were thrown out on both sides of the truck in which they were standing. The injuries were in no case critical, according to Trooper Joseph Bertrand's Florida Highway Patrol report of the accident, but all were hospitalized at Belle Glade Memorial Hospital with bruises, fractures and painful contusions. The driver of the truck was injured also.

Farmer was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control after the 0.30 a.m. accident.

Lakeland Man Killed
In the accident just south of the county line, Glen Moore, Lakeland, was killed when his tractor-trailer was jammed between two large trailer rigs when he attempted to pass on.

JUVENILES—

of a camp near Belle Glade. The third boy when questioned said his group broke into a "drug store" first.

Different Group
It was then apparent that the apprehended youths were possibly not the same persons who broke into the Belle Glade stores because no drug store there had reported a breaking and entering.

On closer questioning it was learned that the boys had robbed Bob and Jenny's store in Pahokee of several articles and about $70. They still had $50.20 of the money on them. On further investigation into the identification of the truck it was found to have been stolen from Stanley's Chevrolet lot across from the looted drug store in Pahokee.

With this information the Pahokee authorities were brought into the case. Chief Goodlett kept the boys in juvenile detention for the Pahokee authorities over Monday night.

New Set
Early Tuesday morning Chief Goodlett learned from Sgt. Vern Clark that several boys had been seen going into the old theater in Belle Glade. He knew that his delinquents of Monday were in custody and here were other youths who had acted suspiciously.

Louis Lowrey and Ralph Clark, fingerprint and identification officer, searched the theater. In the attic, behind a disused ventilating fan the two men found two sleeping boys. Beside them was the loot reported stolen from the Belle Glade robbery victims plus $200 in cash also missing. The youths on being questioned confessed to the robberies and are being held for juvenile court, Goodlett said.

the highway. The three rig pile up blocked the highway with debris for about three hours, FHP reports show.

FHP reports two other accidents in which there were no personal injuries.

On Tuesday at 5 a.m. Oscar Middleton, driving a '54 International tractor-trailer rig plowed into two field boxes dropped from the rear of an unidentified truck going west on SR 80 one mile east of Clewiston. Apparently the field lug boxes dropped from the unidentified truck just as the two trucks passed in opposite directions.

A '55 Cadillac sedan driven by Ora Guy Marker, Dayton, O., was stopped at the end of a line of traffic one mile west of South Bay on SR 80 Sunday morning when it was struck from the rear by a '52 Dodge sedan. From the FHP report the cause of the accident is listed as driver Diana Costworth, Chicago, while "operating the vehicle in a reckless manner." Damage to the Dodge is listed at $475 and to Marker's car, $25.

Trooper Bertrand was reporting officer and investigating both the foregoing accidents.

Commenting on the market and the association which operates it, the federal expert, who has worked in private business and in foreign countries in the marketing field, said:

"Organizations like this, owned by stockmen, provide a vehicle by which they can solve their problems and exchange their ideas rather than attempting to go it alone."

"We find field work getting under way—Doug Odom going out to the feed lots and George Young to see how other markets and associations operate—more help is available to members in appraising weights, and grades, giving advice and information, and assistance with disease and parasite control supplementing the work of the county agriculture agents."

Purdue Graduate
A graduate of Purdue University, Randell was a western rancher, then in livestock commission business in Oklahoma City and Kansas City, and from there went to Washington when the Federal Livestock Board was begun. He set up the livestock and wool marketing associations in various sections of the U. S. He has assisted producer-owned and controlled livestock and wool marketing organizations in Europe and South America as well as in this country.

Before his present trip to the Glades, Randell was in Mississippi, assisting with setting up a state livestock marketing system, and working with the Farm Credit Association in New Orleans. His next task will be a livestock auction analysis in the states of Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan, which have a total of 35 such markets.
